Chapter 1 by Jordan Cardinal

I stare through the hourglass, and watch the sand pathetically run to hit the wooden bottom. A still silence hangs in the air like a long forgotten ghost. I've been here for many years and yet I don't age at all. The other humans have been gone for years, and bones are the only evidence to show that they were here.

My older brother, Rick, and I along with a few other test subjects, had our mind put into metal spheres, called cores. We were each given a personality that we didn't have as humans. It feels awkward at first, but you get used to it quite quickly.

Getting bored of watching the sand fall to its doom, I look around the laboratory. All is silent and still, with no one in sight.

"Well, hello little adventure core!" called a voice from behind me. I whipped around to find myself staring eye to eye with GRaCEY, GLaDOS's younger sister.

"So...What is your sister testing today?" I asked her.

"Well she's looking at testing nature! Which I find quite interesting, and she's thinking of bringing back people, like Chell." GRaCEY said doing her best to smile.

"Well I'll have to see this and start another adventure!" I exclaimed while rushing to the management rail.

"Well I'll have to see this and start another adventure!" I exclaimed while rushing to the management rail.

"Well then you both are in luck." She started, "I think it has been a little, hmm, well you would say boring, so I decided to..."

"Well what?" I asked.

"Rachel and GRaCEY, you know how I let Chell out?" GLaDOS questioned.

"Through the back door?" GRaCEY asked.

"Yes. And something came back. It wasn't human" GLaDOS answered.

"What is it?" I blurted out.

"Wheatley." GLaDOS replied.

I knew who Wheatley was and after what GLaDOS said to us about him, it was going to get a lot more worse. And little did I know I was right.

Chapter 3 by COLLIN NORTH

Wheatley was infamous for his treacherous act; Taking over Aperture Laboratories. He had earned Chells trust, then tricked her into replacing GLaDOS with himself, giving him total power. He then banished Chell and GLaDOS to the underground wasteland of what was left of the previous Aperture Laboratories. But they were able to find their way back up to the surface, defeat Wheatley, and banish him to the moon. That's right, the moon. Don't question it.

The question is; How on earth did he get back? Or should I say, How on the moon?

Chapter 4 by Braden Potters

"Mrs. GLaDOS, can we go in and speak to Wheatley?" I questioned.

"I don't think that would be very wise, what if he tricks you into doing something that you don't want to do." She replied quickly.

"I promise that I won't take very long, I'll be in and out, I just want to know how he got back on Earth." I said.

"Oh, I guess, but you girls need to make it fast, and not get into any trouble at all." She said.

"Thanks Mrs. GLaDOS."

After I had spoken to the door of the chamber and waited for the door to open I pressed the button in the room in front of me. After a few moments the door opened and I walked in. Inside the room there was a brown sofa that was facing a large screen. On the screen there was a video of a man in a suit. He was talking to the camera and gesturing with his hands. In the background, there was a window showing a view of the city. The room had a modern design with white walls and wooden floors. There was also a small table with some books and a lamp.

started walking toward us and gave us a menancing smile, and we realized he even had the terrifying fangs of a spider. We slowly started back up to the door, and all of a sudden, it closed.

Chapter 5 by SaltyPepper15

We turned and stared into the glass of the door with terror on our eyes. I tempted a "manual override" on the glass demanding GLaDOS to open it. "Please forgive me." GLaDOS said with a shocking amount of emotion. We turned to face the Sp-eatly-ion charging at us with the stone cold expression of a maniac. "RAIL IT!" I screamed, as GRaCEY and I sped down the transport rails away from the sp-eatly-ion.
